SYRUP OF FIGS

NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY.
An Excellent Combination.
The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the only perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently and promptly, and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver, and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

PRINCE ENROUTE

The German Emperor's Personal Representative Is Well Received.

A SERIES OF OVATIONS

Prince Henry Visits Many Cities On His Hasty Trip and Receives Glad Hand Everywhere.

Though It Was Midnight When He Reached Indianapolis Thousands Were Waiting For Him.

Indianapolis, March 3.—Prince Henry of Prussia went up Lookout Mountain Sunday and after viewing the ground where the Union and Confederate armies met in conflict and hearing afresh the story of the battles, resumed his journey to the North and West. Leaving Chattanooga over the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis his train ran through a corner of Alabama and then turning to the north hurried across Tennessee with a short stop at Nashville, through Kentucky with brief stays at Louisville and Bowling Green and up into Indiana to another brief halt at Indianapolis. At Indianapolis the course was changed to the westward again and on the tracks of the Vandallia line his train sped toward St. Louis. His reception at the South was hospitable and demonstrative. The negroes manifested great curiosity as to the prince and they interested and amused him.

He got an opportunity to hear them sing at Nashville and was greatly pleased at the experience. It was the glee club of Fiske university that sang and at the close he asked the young woman who led them to come into his car. He shook her hand and congratulated her.

There was a great crowd at Chattanooga, and the people presented Prince Henry with a handsome souvenir of his visit. Nashville also made a demonstration of friendship as did Louisville and Indianapolis.

Though it was 11 o'clock when the train bearing Prince Henry and his party reached here, there were thousands of citizens out to give him a cordial greeting. The great train shed at the union station was brilliant with vari-colored lights, the ordinary somberness of the scene being lightened up by a profusion of potted plants, palms and flowers which decked the space reserved for the reception committee and representatives of the German societies. The prince was greeted by Mayor Bookwalter, Governor Durbin and Addison C. Harris, former minister to Austria, the former making a brief address of welcome, to which the German emperor's personal representative responded pleasantly, being greeted by the tumultuous cheers of the assembled crowd. The train arrived 25 minutes, during all of which time Prince Henry and a few members of his party stood on the rear platform of the train, pleasantly chatting with members of the local reception committee, the cynosure of all eyes.

At every station along the route the people gathered to salute him with cheers. There was much enthusiasm over Admiral Evans as well, and at several points after they had seen and cheered the prince the people called for the admiral. Brief though it was Prince Henry was delighted with his Nashville tour, and as he was leaving Nashville said: "The people have been very kind to me. Everywhere they have received me in the kindest manner, which I very deeply appreciate. I wish they might all know how thankful I am."

Guided by a pilot engine, the special made a specially rapid run from Cincinnati to Chattanooga. At this place he and his party were taken by special electric train to the incline railway that climbs the rugged face of Lookout Mountain. They made the ascent in two cars, the prince escorted by General Boynton and Commissioner Evans riding on the rear platform of the first. The morning was fairly clear when the car began the ascent and the splendid panoramic view quickly came into vision. As the prince reached the crest of the mountain the sun broke through the grayish clouds and the view was excellent. Missionary Ridge, Orchard Knob and Raccoon Mountain were outlined clear and bold, and below the Tennessee river could be traced in its meanderings for miles. General Boynton, who participated in the Chattanooga operations with Sherman's army, and is chairman of the Chickamauga National Park association, accompanied the prince down along the ridge of the mountain and briefly related the story of the campaign. He pointed off to the Cumberland mountains beyond which Rosecrans began the movement, traced out the faint to deceive Bragg, brought it up to the command of Grant, and then graphically told the story of Chickamauga and the assaults on Missionary Ridge and Lookout Mountain. Prince Henry followed the recital with the keenest interest, and with map before him, studied out the strategy and progress of the fight. He asked numerous questions and at his direction his aide, Lieutenant Commander Von Egidy, noted down figures as to the number of men engaged, the losses on either side, and other information as to the battles and campaign. As he stood at Rock Point and looked across the valley of the Tennessee, he exclaimed: "This is magnificent. There is nothing in all Europe finer. I have never seen such a battlefield."

STRICKEN PATERSON

Fire Swept New Jersey Town Now In Clutch of Flood.

Pateron, N. J., March 3.—This city, so recently swept by fire, is now overwhelmed by flood. Three weeks ago the greater part of its business section was burned out and now the quarter occupied by the houses of the poorer class is inundated. Hundreds of families have been made homeless by the overflow of the Passaic river, and the country for miles around the city is under water.

So far but one death has been reported. The great peril now is that the Spruce street railway may overflow, in which event a great loss of property in the manufacturing districts is sure to ensue. At this point the city authorities have placed expert engineers, who are instructed to touch off a blast of dynamite, which will open a new channel for the immense volume of water held there, and by diverting it to the bed of the river in a new direction the authorities hope to save a great deal of valuable property. In a cliff about 70 feet below the Spruce street bridge the experts have placed mines of dynamite, which, if it is found necessary, will be exploded. The fire of three weeks ago, while causing a damage to property to the extent of nearly $8,000,000, did not create such suffering and widespread desolation as the present flood. The district for a mile along the river front from Spruce street hill to Straight street, and two blocks north and five blocks south of the river, nearly half a mile in width, is covered with water which in many instances reaches to the second story of the dwellings.

Diaz Crosses the Line.

Eagle Pass, Tex., March 3.—Amid the booming of cannon and the ringing of bells, the presidential train pulled into Ciudad Porfirio Diaz Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. At the request of President Diaz no great demonstration was made, particularly on account of his peculiar mission, that of meeting the widow of the late minister to Austria, Mrs. Miranda, sister of Mrs. Diaz. Judge Santiago Suarez welcomed President Diaz to the city. President Diaz made a brief speech of thanks for the greeting he had received. Mrs. Diaz and suite left at 6 p. m. on the presidential train for San Antonio to meet Mrs. Miranda. The president remains here.

New Telegraph Record.

Atlanta, Ga., March 3.—The American Telegraphers' tournament concluded its contests at 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The Andrew Carnegie diamond medal for the best all around telegrapher was won by E. M. McClintic of the Associated Press, Dallas, Tex.; C. W. White of Richmond, Va., was second, and F. G. Johnson of Louisville, Ky., third. Mr. McClintic sent 517 words in 10 minutes, establishing a record.

Heavy Flood Damage.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 3.—This city and Allegheny have so far recovered from the flood as to have resumed all ordinary traffic, and to have in a great measure overcome the inconvenience brought about by the high water. An estimate of the damage done here by the flood is hard to get at, but conservative men place the total at about $1,250,000.

Another Snowslide.

Telluride, Col., March 3.—Two snow slides came down the mountain near the Bothermal mine Sunday, the second burying several men at work clearing away the debris from the first.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Conference committee of House and Senate has agreed on the Philippine tariff bill.

England shows a disposition to be jealous of the attentions paid Prince Henry in the United States.

The flood in the Leigh river is rapidly receding after reaching the highest mark on record.

River at Pittsburg reached stage of 22.6 feet, throwing 40,000 men out of employment, and causing heavy losses in that city and Allegheny. The remount scandal in the British army is said to have come to light through disappointment of a member of Commons who failed to secure a contract.

Railroad traffic was badly interfered with and not a wheel turned on a street car line at Albany, N. Y., Sunday as a result of the Hudson river overflowing its banks.

A revolt of laborers in Italy, carefully planned by socialist organizations was revealed by a premature strike at Turin, and was checked by prompt action of government.

The monthly statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that the month of February the total receipts were $41,135,730 and the expenditures $39,090,390, leaving a surplus for the month of $2,045,340.

Marconi, just arrived in New York kept up wireless communication with his station at Cornwall until he was 2,000 miles away, when the last signal was heard. Actual messages were received at a distance of 1,601 miles.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

This Measure Will Have Right-of-Way In Senate This Week.

IN NO HURRY ABOUT IT

Those In Charge of the Bill Show No Present Disposition to Press the Matter.

In the House the Week Will Be Devoted Largely to Postal Affairs.

Washington, March 3.—The senate today took up the ship subsidy bill and it will continue to hold its place as the unfinished business until disposed. There is, however, no disposition for the present to press the matter to the exclusion of all other business, so that it will probably be laid aside temporarily at different times to permit the consideration of all others, including Senator Hoar's bill for the protection of the president against assault. The legislative appropriation bill will be reported during the week and will take precedence of the ship bill in its own right if Senator Cullom, who will have it in charge, decides to ask the senate to take it up, as he probably will. The subsidy bill will not be debated for so great a length of time as was the measure of the last congress. There will be a number of speeches on it, however, before it is allowed to go to a vote. Senator Frye, chairman of the committee on commerce, who has the bill in charge explained the measure when it was taken up today. Senator Clay will address the senate from the Democratic point of view and probably will be followed by Senator Turner, Vest, Mallory and other Democratic senators. Senator Turner has abandoned his announced intention of reviewing President Pro Tem Frye's ruling in the Tillman-McLaurin contempt proceeding, and the present indication is that that incident will not receive any further immediate attention.

IN THE HOUSE

Postal Affairs Will Occupy Attention of Representatives.

Washington, March 3.—The house of representatives will give most of its time during the present week to postal affairs. It began today with the bill placing the rural free delivery system on the contract basis, and will follow later with the postoffice appropriation bill. The rural free delivery measure has aroused much controversy and there promises to be an active debate, with considerable doubt as to the passage of the bill. It was the original plan to make the change in the rural delivery system a feature of the postoffice appropriation bill, but as this would have necessitated a special rule, the proposition was brought forward in a special bill. It is expected that debate on the bill, which is to have the right of way until disposed of, will take about two days. The postoffice appropriation bill contains items relating to subsidy for fast mail, which are usually fruitful of much discussion. It is expected that the appropriation bill will occupy all the latter part of the week, although next Friday is set aside for war claims.

Aside from the regular public work, the Republican members hold a second caucus tonight to consider further the course to be pursued on Cuban reciprocity.

A CIVIL WAR

Arabs Are Stirred Up Over a Dynastic Struggle.

Bombay, March 3.—Abdul Aziz Ben Feysul, a descendant of the old Wahabi amers, with an army of 2,000 men, has captured the city of Eriad in central Arabia. Abdul Aziz Ben Feysul entered the city by stratagem at night with 50 followers. These men rode to the palace and killed the governor of Eriad and 30 of his retainers. The garrison of the city then surrendered, whereupon the army of Abdul Aziz Ben Feysul entered. It is believed that the Wahabi dynasty is endeavoring to regain its supremacy and overthrow the Rashid, the ameer of Mecca and conquer the latter city. Many tribes are flocking to the banner of Abdul Aziz Ben Feysul.

Two Buildings Collapse.

Reading, Pa., March 3.—A terrific explosion occurred last night in the four-story music store of C. H. Lichty. The building at once completely collapsed. This was followed by the three-story brick umbrella factory adjoining of Mrs. Mary Boland. Both buildings and contents were destroyed. It is believed three persons perished. The explosion is said to have been due to a gas which was manufactured by a local company, of which Mr. Lichty was president.

An Ohio Tragedy.

Mingo Junction, Ohio, March 3.—Wassil Paluch, saloon keeper, was shot by Edward Buchanan, aged 19, last night. Paluch is dying. He wanted to chase mischievous boys away and thinking Buchanan was one of them, choked him and put him out. Paluch ran into the saloon for the bungstarter and when he struck Buchanan with it the boy shot him.

CHARLESTON UNEASY

Fears That Tillman's Insult May Keep President Away.

Charleston, S. C., March 3.—Mayor Smythe and Aldermen Rhett and Klock, representing the city, and President Wagner and Director Hemphill of the exposition board, left here Sunday afternoon for Washington, where they will urge the president to carry out his promise to come to Charleston.

F. W. WAGNER.

Mayor Smythe yesterday received a telegram from Secretary G. B. Cortelyou which reads: "Your letter enclosing action of city council received and the president directs me to express his hearty thanks. He hopes to meet the committee at lunch Monday and will make all arrangements then."

AN UNUSUAL CASE

Dr. Burnett Held As Accessory to a Woman's Suicide.

Chicago, March 3.—The jury in the case of Dr. Orville S. Burnett, who has been on trial charged with the murder of Mrs. Charlotte S. Nichol of Nashville, Tenn., returned a verdict of guilty and recommended that Burnett be sent to the penitentiary for 15 years. Burnett's attorneys have asked for a new trial. The verdict was a surprise, as Judge Baker's instructions to the jury were considered favorable to the defendant.

The case was one of the most unusual that has ever been tried in the Cook county criminal court. Burnett, who is a young dentist, was charged with being accessory before and after the fact to the death of Mrs. Nichol, even though it was admitted by the prosecution that Mrs. Nichol had committed suicide. The state endeavored to establish the point that Burnett and Mrs. Nichol agreed to commit suicide together and that the man weakened, allowing the woman to go to her death alone. The defense disputed that there had been any agreement between the two to end their lives together, and asserted that Mrs. Nichol had taken her own life while Burnett was lying intoxicated at her side.

An Unhappy Millionaire.

Warren, O., March 3.—Hon. Henry Bishop Perkins, one of Ohio's most prominent and philanthropic citizens, killed himself by hanging Sunday in his office adjoining his home in this city. The body was found shortly before noon by his family, who went to call him to dinner. Illness and the suicide of a favorite son, a Yale graduate a year ago, is believed to have made Mr. Perkins temporarily insane. Mr. Perkins was born in Warren and always lived here. He was president of the First National Bank of Warren and also prominent in railroad and state affairs. He was a man of large fortune, said to be worth three or four millions of dollars.

A Charge of Arson.

Louisville, March 3.—Edward P. Caldwell, who ran a drug store at Fifteenth and Prentice streets that was destroyed by fire Sunday morning; Edward Stegner, aged 17, and Henry McGowan, were arrested on the technical charge of being suspected felons. The police say Stegner confessed that he and McGowan set fire to the drug store building and that they were to receive $300 for their work. There was $2,500 of insurance on the building and stock.

Their Boat Capsized.

Pikeville, Ky., March 3.—Frank Tyree of Catlettsburg, Ky., and Lewis Schmidt of Portsmouth, Ohio, both prominent traveling men, were drowned in the Big Sandy near here Sunday by the overturning of a boat in which they were traveling downstream. Edward Burke of Catlettsburg, a traveling man also, who was with them, seized hold of a sawlog and floated with the current several miles before being rescued. Neither of the bodies has been recovered.

Redskins to Prison.

Muskogee, I. T., March 3.—Chitto Harjo or Crazy Snake and nine of his followers were started Sunday for the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to begin their sentences of two years each for conspiracy against the government, imposed last Wednesday by United States Judge C. W. Raymond.

In Hugo's Memory.

Paris, March 3.—The fetes in commemoration of the centenary of Victor Hugo's birth terminated Sunday with the ceremony of handing over to the city of Paris to serve as a Victor Hugo museum, the house in which he for some time lived in the Place Des Vosges.

Miss Stone at Salonica.

Constantinople, March 3.—The reported arrival here of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary recently released by the brigands, is untrue. Miss Stone is still at Salonica.

A GREAT MEETING

National Association of Manufacturers Will Assemble At Indianapolis.

UNUSUAL IMPORTANCE

Will Attach to This Meeting By Reason of the Several Measures Which Will Be Considered.

Points of Interest From All Quarters of Indiana Detailed Briefly Here.

Indianapolis, March 3.—The seventh annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers will be held in this city April 15, 16 and 17. This will be an event of unusual importance to the manufacturers of the city and state. The association represents an amount of investment that is unequalled by any other organization of this country. The combined capitalization of the corporations composing it will run into several hundreds of millions. There are over 900 manufacturing plants huddled membership. The basis of the organization is a desire to have home markets supplied by home producers and to extend foreign trade relations in every possible direction. The association has declared in favor of reciprocity in trade relations, the restoration and extension of the merchant marine, the improvement of internal natural and artificial waterways, that the great lakes may be connected with the rivers of the Mississippi valley and the Atlantic seaboard. Representing such vast commercial interests, its decisions and requests in matters pertaining to the industries of the country are of great weight. This will be the first meeting of the association as far west as Indiana and the manufacturers of the state are making extensive arrangements for its proper entertainment.

NEW SOURCE OF RICHES

Extensive Coal Fields Are Revealed In St. Joseph County.

Mishawaka, Ind., March 3.—On the Alford farm near the village of Granger, this county, a remarkably rich deposit of coal has been discovered. The tract is located six miles north-east of Mishawaka and already a stock company with a capital of $100,000 has been formed to develop the coal industry. The product is of the highest quality and additional shafts sunk show that the vein is miles in length and of unknown depth. The find was made in an accidental manner by Farmer Alford, Chicago and Indiana capitalists are attempting to purchase adjoining land by offering four times the value of the farms under ordinary circumstances, but they are meeting with no success in a single case. Millions of tons of coal are said to be buried in the above locality.

Attracts Much Attention.

Greensburg, Ind., March 3.—The Miers divorce case, which has been on trial here for a week is attracting great attention, although all the proceedings take place behind closed doors. Over 200 witnesses have been summoned and about half of this number examined. Judge Hacker of Columbus, who is acting as special judge, explicitly instructs each witness when through testifying that if he repeats on the streets anything that is said or done in the courtroom he will be punished for contempt of court, consequently but little can be learned of the progress of the trial. The attorneys state that it will take most of this week to hear the rest of the evidence. Representative Miers of Bloomington, a brother of the plaintiff, is one of the attorneys.

Dead At His Post.

Indianapolis, March 3.—George Pettinger of this city, an engineer on the Big Four railroad, died in his cab en route to Indianapolis. His death was due to a hemorrhage of the lungs. The train which Pettinger was running was a through passenger. With him at the time of his death was his fireman, William Parrish. Just before reaching Lynn, Ind., Pettinger was seized with a hemorrhage and when the train stopped at Lynn he expired.

A Remarkable Recovery.

Elwood, Ind., Mar. 3.—Perry Leese, formerly a workman in the plant of the American Tinplate company here, has filed suit against the company for damages in the sum of $25,000. While at his work a few weeks ago Leese slipped and fell and a sharp piece of iron was driven clear through his head, entering behind the left ear and pushing the left eyeball from its socket. He will recover, but claims his health is permanently impaired.

Loss Produced Dementia.

Goshen, Ind., March 3.—Neal Felkner, the widely-known traveling representative of the Kramer Bros. company of La Porte, is lying at his home in Milford in a state of dementia, brought on from the realization that he is unable to account for $2,000 belonging to his employers. His bondsmen, Omer F. Neff and Pret F. Miles, will be obliged to forfeit the amount. Felkner was formerly postmaster at Milford.

CAPITAL NOTES

Items of Interest Furnished By Our Indianapolis Correspondent.

Indianapolis, March 3.—Chairman Goodrich of the Republican state committee returned last night from a few days' visit in Washington. Joseph B. Kealing of this city, another Republican leader, came in yesterday from a week in Washington. There has been much gossip regarding the purpose of the visit of the two men to Washington at this time, as this is not the period of the year when pleasure trips are taken in that direction. Kealing says he was not there on a political mission and that Goodrich did not come to Washington to join him in any matter. It is believed, however, that the question of the organization of the state convention and the declarations the platform will contain received considerable attention. It is understood that Goodrich will at once announce his executive and advisory committee and it is believed that Warren Bigler of Wabash, Harry C. Starr of Richmond, Elmer Crockett of South Bend, Walter Schmit of Evansville, and Sidney Cantwell of Hartford City will be members of the former. All but Cantwell were decided on several days ago, and it was said today he has been selected. The Republican state committee's rooms are being refurbished and cleaned up for the campaign.

An interesting report was received by politicians here today. It is to the effect that James F. Stutesman may decide to make another race for speaker of the house. It will be remembered he was defeated last year after a hard fight with S. R. Artman. The surprising feature of the report is that Stutesman had declared in favor of Henry W. Marshall of Lafayette for the place. Marshall helped manage his campaign last year and it is said Stutesman promised in return to help him. It is said Stutesman would not be a candidate until the announcement was made that Warren G. Sayre would run for speaker. As he and Sayre live in the same congressional and legislative district it would be expected of Stutesman that he support Sayre. Rather than do that and let Marshall shift for himself it is understood that he is saying he will try for the place again himself. With Stutesman a candidate the outcome will be still more uncertain.

The personnel of the standing committee of the leading men of Indiana are now associated with the Committees for the ensuing year show umbra club of this city. In the committee on arts are James Whitcomb Riley, Oliver Willard Price, Newton Booth Tarkington, General Lew Wallace and Charles Major of Shelbyville, while Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, Addison C. Harris, former minister to Austria, and several members of congress are on the committee on public questions. Governor Durbin, who is not an active club man, is a member of the reception committee. Men of letters and art as well as politicians have taken up with the club, which now has a membership of over 1,000.

Treasurer of State Levy recently received the 67th annual payment of interest on a college fund loan of $200. At the rate of 7 per cent $938 has been paid on this note. This kind of business policy is amusing to the state officials, although they have many similar cases. There are a number of small loans made a quarter of a century ago on which the interest paid amounts to three times the principal. The peculiar feature about them is that in many instances the parties to whom the notes were made are abundantly able to take them up, but for some reason they seem to prefer to let them run on.

What Motherhood Means

Motherhood means either happiness or misery. There is scant happiness for the mother, who in pain and weakness brings into the world a weakling babe which she can neither nurse nor nourish. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription fits women for motherhood. It strengthens the maternal organism. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and brings refreshing sleep. It makes the birth hour practically painless and gives the mother the nourishment to give her child.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. "Words cannot express how grateful I am for your kind advice and your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. D. B. Barricks, of Perrowa, Campbell Co., Va. "I feel that it has cured me. I had been in poor health for four years. Suffered greatly with my right side, also with bearing-down pains, and my nerves were in a dreadful state. After using four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I am now well. I am the mother of two children. With the first child I suffered twenty-eight hours, and with the second I used your medicine and was well only three hours. I believe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to be the best medicine in the world for suffering females. I wish you great success, and hope that God will bless you in your noble work."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. K. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DIED.

DAVIS—Miss Charity Davis, who resides with her brother, Prof. E. M. Davis, of Brownstown, died Friday night of paralysis, with which she had been stricken three weeks ago. She was forty years of age. The remains were taken to Sand Creek cemetery, near Elizabethtown, for burial Sunday.

BRANAMAN—Abram Branaman died at his home near Clear Spring Sunday morning. He went out to the barn to feed the stock, and was gone longer than usual, so a member of the family went out to look for him. He was found dead out near the barn. A stroke of paralysis was the cause of his death. Abram Branaman was 73 years of age and was born in the vicinity of Clearspring. He was one of the best known citizens of the county and was a prominent farmer. He was an uncle of W. T. Branaman, and a brother of Christian Branaman, of Seymour. They went to Clearspring Monday to attend the funeral.

A PARSEE WEDDING.

T. S. Blish Writes of an Interesting Experience in India.

Correspondence of the Indianapolis Journal.

BOMBAY, Jan. 14.—For open-hearted kindness and considerate hospitality commend me to these most interesting Parsees of India. Returning this afternoon from a drive to their burial grounds in Bombay—the Tower of Silence—where we had observed with interest their unique disposal of the dead, we chanced to pass one of their wedding houses, and, seeing there a function taking place, stopped our garris and questioned passersby as to its meaning. The wedding house itself stood flush with the street, and through the open window we could see a large room brilliantly lighted, decorated with flowers and filled with well-dressed, smiling-faced women and children. Beyond the house the compound, or court, was lighted and arranged with seats, fountains, tables, etc., very like some of our best concert gardens. This garden was filled with men wearing their quaint head dress and beautifully embroidered vests with flowing skirts, who were smoking and making very merry. An excellent band of brass made good music and all seemed joyousness. We were told a wedding of prominent Parsees was about taking place. Observing our interested look, several exceedingly polite young men hastened from the compound to our carriage side and invited us to alight and attend the ceremonies. There was such evident cordiality in their manner and we were so deeply interested in what we had already seen that we accepted, although we felt much out of place dressed as we were in our day clothes and wearing the clumsy corn 'topis,' or hat, so much affected by tourists. However, we put aside our curiosity to prompt our acceptance of the invitation so cordially extended. We were at once shown into the large room where we had seen the women and children and given seats flanking a rug placed in the center of the room, on which the ceremony took place. Immediately we were waited on by attendants, who hung wreaths of flowers around our necks and placed in our hands bouquets. Books with an English explanation of the rites about to be performed were also given us, and soon the ceremony began. To the strident singing of the women the groom was ushered into the room by three priests of evident high degree and polish, and was seated in a chair facing the center of the rug just opposite a chair prepared for the bride. The groom, dressed in pantaloons and a long, shirtilike robe of black, richly embroidered, and wearing the peculiar cap affected by this sect, looked very much bored and ill at ease. His old mother sat just behind him and his best man and sisters flanked him on either side.

On the approach of the bride, two of the priests seized a piece of sheeting and secured it in position between the two that they might not see each other. Their right hands were then clasped underneath the curtain and in this position securely tied. This signifies their full consent to accept each other regardless of defects of any sort that either may possess or hereafter acquire. An incantation of some sort was then pronounced by the head priest, who then, assisted by the other two holy men, wound around the two a raw cotton twine seven times and secured its ends by tying them tightly around the cloth that had already been tied around their clasped hands. The significance of this is that they should live ever in happiness and prosperity "in the way of the seven arch-angels."

Frankincense was then burned and the curtain between the happy pair removed that they might look into each other's eyes as the remainder of the ceremony is pronounced. Benedictions, queries, prayers and exhortations were said by the three priests sometimes in concert, sometimes alternately, but always accompanied by the throwing of small quantities of rice at the couple's heads. When the final benediction was said the bride was made to sit at the groom's side and the families took a hand in the performance. First the groom's mother blessed the son and then the new daughter-in-law; then the bride's sister brought holy water and "washed" the bride's feet by letting fall a few drops upon the silk-stockinged foot that was deftly slipped from the shoe and daintily displayed from under the skirt, after which a mouthful of food was taken by each from the hands of another member of the family. Following this, congratulations from all present were in order and the droning songs of what appeared to be a women's choir recommenced. We were pressed to speak to the now happy couple, and in response to a hearty "Here's luck to you, old man" from our Board of Trade man we got a cordial "Thank you" from the groom and a sweet smile from the bride. On taking our leave we were urged to go across the garden to the refreshment tables and partake of the feast. We did so and were regaled with the choicest of wines, sweetmeats, cakes, etc., while all the time the splendid band played—what do you think it played?—"Oh! Listen to the Band." Throughout the whole time we were present we were treated with the greatest respect and cordiality and made welcome by the looks of lustrous black eyes from all sides. These Parsees (or Parsis) are a splendid people, ranking high as to education and refinement with these many strange folk of this wonderful land. We record gratefully the pleasure of all our meetings and dealings with them.

I neglected to say that in the center of the forehead of each bride and groom was worn a chain, the size of a ten-cent piece, of brilliant red. The significance of this is, as I read from the book of explanation given us, "the sign of goodness in the pair and the extent of their pleasure for the occasion. Philosophers regard this sign as an indication of a sound mind."

T. S. BLISH.

Methodist Meeting Closed.

The series of revival meetings at the Methodist church closed Sunday night. All the services at the church Sunday were largely attended and the revival spirit was manifest at each meeting. There were thirteen additions to the church during the day. Evangelist Life preached in the forenoon and his sermon was a forceful earnest and helpful presentation of gospel truth. In the evening Presiding Elder Baxter preached an excellent sermon from the text "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." The Sacrament of the Lord's supper followed the sermon.

During the five weeks of the meetings there were sixty-four additions to the church and the membership of the church was greatly blessed and strengthened. The pastor, Dr. E. R. Vest, has labored very earnestly for the success of the meetings and did the preaching himself for the first two weeks and a half, after which Evangelist Life came to his assistance. His preaching was truly helpful to the church in a very large way and has caused the members to feel the weight of their responsibility as never before. Evangelist Life has gone to Axtell, Nebraska, to assist in a meeting.

A WORLD WIDE VICTORY.

The recent victories of the house of Baldwin at the Paris Exposition give to its products a value and prestige not possessed by any other American piano. The grand Prix awarded the Baldwin Piano is an honor coveted by all the manufacturers of the world, but which has never been bestowed upon any American piano except the Baldwin. The Silver Medal awarded the Hamilton pianos and organs shows the estimate of the International Jury of these Standard Instruments. The fifteen other awards [gold, silver and bronze medals, and honorable mentions], serve to emphasize the Great one, and show the high value placed upon the details of construction and the inventions embodied in these instruments.
